Press Releases

NOTE: Press releases are only used for major events to which the public is invited.

Instructions from the Co-VP of Planning & Development

Format On letterhead:

Line 1) Contact info always goes on the top RIGHT

Line 2) FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE – goes on the top LEFT in BOLD with the DATE Line 3) Titles of Press Releases should be kept to two lines, maximum; BOLD, all capital letters, 18pt size font

Line 4) (If this is an event like the Purim Dinner, put the Day, Date and Time Centered in BOLD – separate by bullets)

Ex: (Saturday, March 3 * 7:00 p.m.) – (Notice no "rd" on 3rd – just the number; this is AP Style*)

Line 5) For the text, indent first paragraph with location (Boynton Beach, FL –) then start copy: Temple Shaarei Shalom is excited to announce...

Line 5) Your last paragraph is called the "boiler plate" this is the "brag paragraph about Temple Shaarei Shalom who we are; what we do, etc"; then end with the website address "Visit us at www.templeshaareishalom.com."

These are the industry standard formats for press releases and calendar releases. The Associated Press Style Manual (AP Style*) is the journalist's bible, and these formats are recognized in newsrooms across the country.

Spacing: Press releases should be visually appealing and easy to read. Press releases can be single or double spaced; with a line of space in between paragraphs.

Finally, Press releases should always be kept to a single 8-1/2 x 11 page. Editors cringe when they 2-3 page press releases!

Create a Submittable Adobe Form

A. Create the form text and fields in MS Word.

- Create the form with lines or tables for fields.
- Think about places you might want to use special fields, like a date picker, check boxes, and multiple-choice check boxes. Allow two full spaces for the form fields.
- You can set up fields to calculate totals based on contents of other fields in the Format dialog box.
- Adobe only recognizes fields in certain formats. Here are the three ways Adobe recognizes fields. See the options below.

Diagram 4. Three Options for setting up fields in MS Word to convert to an Adobe form

Option 1: Before the field.

Adult1 First Name _____ Adult1 Last Name _____

Adult2 First Name _____ Adult2 Last Name _____

Option 2: Place words above the box where the entries will be, double spacing below to allow enough space for the form to convert.

Adult 1 First Name Adult1 Last Name

Option 3: Use a table. Adobe will add to each empty cell to create a discrete variable name. For example, fields in the Name column below, the fields would be called NameRow1, Name Row2, NameRow3. In the Age column, the fields would be called AgeRow1, AgeRow2, AgeRow3.

Name	Age	Member?(yes/no)
